

EXTRA
MAIN, 15 TR 1,
Wins the Newark Handicap, Defeating Speedwell at Clifton.
THE MUTUELS PAID $138.70.
Mr. Charles Victor Sass Will Succeed Secretary McGowan on Monday Next.

WINS THE NEWARK HANDICAP, DEFEATING SPEEDWELL AT CLIFTON.
CLIFTON RACE TRACK, Oct. 23.—The atmosphere at Clifton this afternoon was raw and disagreeable, making a seat on the grand stand far from comfortable. The few ladies present witnessed the racing from the heated inclosure located in the rear of the stand.

There will be racing here on Saturday in opposition to Linden.

Mr. James McGowan, who for the past ten years has been Secretary of the Brighton Beach and Clifton Association, was today retired. In recognition of his faithful services he is to receive a liberal pension.

The position has been accepted by Mr. Charles Victor Sass, formerly editor of the Sporting World, who will enter upon his duties next Monday.

FIRST RACE.
Five-eighths of a mile; selling allowances.

NEWARK HANDICAP.—One mile and a sixteenth.

THE RACE.—So far as the race was concerned, the race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

FOURTH RACE.
One mile and an eighth; selling allowances.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

FIFTH RACE.
Six and one-half furlongs.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

A Puzzler for the Emigration Board.
The case of Mrs. Nellie Wilkes and her two children, who were brought to this country by the Board of Emigration, was a very close one.

Horace Phillips Fully Recovered.
Pittsburg, Oct. 22.—Horace Phillips, formerly manager of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club, who has been confined in the insane asylum at Merchantville, N. J., for the past three months, has entirely recovered and will be released from the asylum on Thursday.

BIG SALARY CUT.
Many Hundreds of Department of Charities Employees Affected.
Eight Per Cent. Reduction Ordered by the Board To-Day.

Only Those in the Insane Asylums and Male Training-School Exempt.

The salaries of many hundreds of employees of the Department of Charities and Correction, with the exception of those connected with the insane asylums and the Male Training-School, have been docked 8 per cent.

This move was determined on by the Board this morning, and the reason for it is told by Commissioners Sheehy and Porter as follows:

Last year's provisional estimate for the salary fund was based on the pay-rolls of August and September.

The final appropriation was between $9,000 and $7,000 less than the estimate, but the pay-roll of the Department has been continued as before.

Separate appropriations were made for the insane asylums and the male training-school.

Those for the insane asylums had reference to the new institutions at Central Islip, but as these were not opened until quite recently over $10,000 was saved to the salary fund.

It was expected that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment would transfer this fund to make up the deficiency in the general fund.

Mayor Grant is opposed to such action, saying that heads of departments should know just how much money they need when they make their estimates and keep within the limits of their expenditures.

He refused to consider the application for a transfer, and so the cut of 8 per cent. became necessary.

The cut in salaries will take effect on Oct. 1 and hold good until Jan. 1, when the old salaries will be restored.

Commissioners Porter and Sheehy said this afternoon that the employees who are affected by the cut approved the situation and accept it with a good grace.

BULLETS RUN MAD.
Still Another Victim of a Policeman's Bad Marksmanship.

Still another complaint of reckless pistol shooting by a policeman was reported to Supt. Murray at Police Headquarters to-day.

This time the officer is Patrolman John C. Calhoun, one of Capt. Garland's squad, at the Madison street station.

On the police record the case appears as follows:

At 4-40 P. M. Patrolman Calhoun, of 250 Madison street, was taken to the station-house and reported that he had shot and killed the dog.

FROZEN OUT.
Giants Drop the Fourth of the Games in the World's Series.

PUTTING BROOKLYN TWO AHEAD.
Jack Frost Among the Spectators and Pinching the Players' Fingers.

Whirlwind Crane and Cleyer Terry in the Pitcher's Box.

Umpire Gaffney Distinguishes Himself by an Outrageous Decision.

New York 7
Brooklyn 10

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, Oct. 23.—There were, in all probability, 30,000 cranks in and around this town and the city across the river who, perhaps for the first time, to-day heartily wished that some kind Providence had willed that baseball should be an indoor game.

For the weather god, to all appearance, got mixed in his dates and visited local points with a coldness that is not all the ideas of November.

Indeed the afternoon was so cold that serious doubts were entertained as to whether the two great clubs would attempt to play at all.

Certainly the players themselves did not enjoy the prospect of handling even hot balls with cold-stiffened fingers.

The New Yorks climbed out of their carriages looking like so many bundles of clothing.

From neck to knee each man was swathed in heavy sweaters, thick jerseys and other warm goods.

The Bridgetowns were heavily clad in woollen goods of various kinds and colors.

The crowd was not a large one by any means, but from the start showed itself to be possessed of much enthusiasm.

The applause which from time to time marked some pretty play in practice was for the most part.

CLUB AND FRONT.—On the field, the players were with the feet, for gloved hands can't make much noise, and what ungloved hands there were in the crowd were warmed in pockets.

Today New York presented Ed Crane, the great away-from-home pitcher, in the box, and as Ed had won every game he had ever pitched against the Association champions, Gotham rooters felt very sure that by to-night the world's series would be tied.

Terry and Clark were chosen to do battery work for the Bridgetowns.

When New York came to bat and Lynch called play there were not more than 2,000 people present, and the stamp of many feet being set on the ground.

Among the courageous ones who saw the game were Tommy Esterbrook, once first baseman of the Mets and ex-third baseman of the New York Club; Pat Bowers, with clear tightly clenched between his teeth, tried to keep warm while pitchers and catchers indulged in preliminary practice.

stopped, and picking up one of the yellow-bellied balls used by Association clubs, carefully examined the trade mark, cover and other appendages as if to find the proper spot to hit it.

Then he took his place at bat and knocked a fly to short center, which Corkhill caught.

Tierman reached first on four balls and was promoted to second by Ewing's sacrifice grounder to Collins.

A high fly to the last named player settled the fate of Ward and brought the Grooms to bat. No runs.

BUCK MAKES A BAD THROW.
Amid various emotions expressed by partisans and enemies, O'Brien had two strikes called on him.

Then the long-limbed Crane sent him to first on balls.

He started for second and Buck threw wildly—so wildly that O'Brien kept up his sprinting and mad clean through.

Burns, he of the far-reaching voice, boomed a full-throated shout of course out down.

Then Fouts got his base on balls, and his steal of second was made a success by Richardson's miff of Buck's throw.

Whitney made a bad muff of a foul fly that Pinkney knocked near him.

Then Pinkney slammed a liner to left for a bag and Fouts came home. Pink took second on the throw in. Clark struck out. Two runs.

SECOND INNING.—FRODOZ OUT. After their star exhibition of rocky fielding the Giants came to the bat and proceeded to furnish three easy outs.

Gore was sent to first on balls, and his steal of second was made a success by Richardson's miff of Buck's throw.

Whitney made a bad muff of a foul fly that Pinkney knocked near him.

Then Pinkney slammed a liner to left for a bag and Fouts came home. Pink took second on the throw in. Clark struck out. Two runs.

THIRD INNING.—NEW YORK CORNERS. Whitney popped up a fly which Pinkney caught and Crane, after hitting a grounder, failed to beat Smith's throw to first.

Gore was sent to first on balls, and his steal of second was made a success by Richardson's miff of Buck's throw.

Whitney made a bad muff of a foul fly that Pinkney knocked near him.

Then Pinkney slammed a liner to left for a bag and Fouts came home. Pink took second on the throw in. Clark struck out. Two runs.

FOURTH INNING.—WHITNEY'S TIMELY HIT. Courton was assisted out at first by Smith.

Richardson received four balls.

Whitney was shown the same consideration.

TWO AHEAD.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

TWO AHEAD.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

BROOKLYN.

4th GAME.

EXTRA
LINDEN OPENS

St. James Won the Opening Event by Eight Lengths.

FITZJAMES HIS ONLY OPPONENT
Tristan Jumped All the Mud Holes Like a Hurdler.

ST. JAMES WON THE OPENING EVENT BY EIGHT LENGTHS.
Fitz James was the only horse to clear the jump.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

SECOND RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

THIRD RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

FOURTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

FIFTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

SIXTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

SEVENTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

EIGHTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.

THE RACE.—The race was a very close one, but the speed of the race was such that the race was a very close one.

NINTH RACE.
Sweepstakes for all ages; mile and half a furlong.